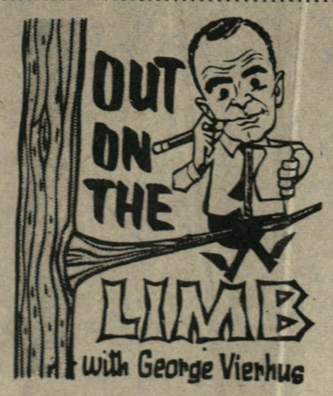
LOCAL SCHOOL KIDS PERFORM IN SAN JOSE AUD

SUMMER WORKSHOP PRESENTS 'THE MUSIC MAN'



NO COMMUNITY, AS far as we know, has so far succeeded in solving that vexing problem of what to do about service stations to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Most cities seem to have more than an ample abundance of such establishments. But, by the same token, these same cities are reluctant, in most instances, to limit by legislation the number of stations to a town.

Almost every community with which we are familiar has at times made a stab, or at least a half-hearted attempt, at controlling stations.

The problem, of course, is that service stations are legitimate enterprises.

From an esthetic point of view, maybe a community would be more attractive, if gas stations were rationed. But as long as this country still bears some resemblance to the free enterprise system, people have the inherent right to operate their own businesses, provided they are legal and do not interfere with the rights of others.

Therefore, to put controls on service stations on the assumption that there are too many of 'em around, is a pretty weak approach to an almost untenable situation in the first place.

EVERY TIME A SERVICE station question hits the official city circles, there is no easy way out of the predicament.

We extend our sympathy.

But that's about all we have to offer.

Whatever action a city body takes is wrong.

There can be no winner in such cases.

As a f'instance, the Planning Commission recently voted unanimously (7-0) to deny a use permit for a service station to be located on Winchester on a southerly extension of the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center.

On an appeal to the City Council, the commission's action was overruled by a 3-2 vote of the councilmen.

The basis for the denial by the Planning Commission was the traffic problem that could be created on busy Winchester Blvd.

Although no driveways from the station would open onto Winchester, there would be a private road for egress and ingress purposes, across the center's parking lot, from Nido to Winchester, that would dump traffic onto Winchester close to where that street curves at the Camden intersection.

Admittedly the planning commissioners may have been hunting for a reason (other than "too darn many stations in town") on which they could pin their denial.

Why not?

There is nothing wrong with that approach, in our opinion.

-0-

AND, IN OUR BOOK, they found their basis in this traffic hazard routine.

But a majority of the City Council apparently didn't think so. They felt a stronger case was needed in order to keep a gas station out of town.

This attitude of the majority of the councilmen (Homer Hyde, Ralph Doetsch and Dean Chamberlin) is commendable...Up to a point, that is.

We wholeheartedly agree with the philosophy that, if a business is legitimate it should be allowed to operate, even if it appears economically unsound or esthetically unattractive.

Theoretically, in this country, a guy should be allowed to go broke with his flags flying and without interference from a governmental agency.

We thought the three councilmen were overly-cautious in their reasoning with respect to the gas station on Winchester Blvd. Admittedly they should take their regulatory powers seriously.

We recognize they have their problems cut out for

On Thursday night

Campbell musicians go on stage in San Jose

Campbell elementary school students attending the summer music classes will go "big time" this week when they appear on the stage in San Jose.

On Thursday evening, (August 1), 366 Campbell summer music students of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District will present the 1968 concert concluding the summer music session.

This year, for the first time, the concert will be presented in the San Jose Civic Auditorium, located on San Carlos and Market St., San Jose.

Because of the large number of children participating in the summer music program and because of the "standing room only" conditions of previous concluding concerts which have been held in the Campbell Elementary School auditorium on Cherry Lane, this year it was decided that the program should be presented in a large auditorium. Because the Campbell High School auditorium was already spoken for, the civic auditorium space was secured, providing there is ample parking and seating for all friends and relatives.

Program for the evening will include in order of presentation: instructor Joe Cathey, directing the intermediate orchestra; Gilda Mazzanti and Wallace Johnson, beginning string ensemble; William Resch, intermediate band; William Autry, beginning woodwinds; Dean Kauffman, beginning woodwind ensemble; Albert Alarid, beginning brass ensemble, beginning drums; Johnson, advanced orchestra; Kauffman, folk singing; John Reggle, drum corps and Ed Tonini, director of the entire summer music program, will direct the advanced band.

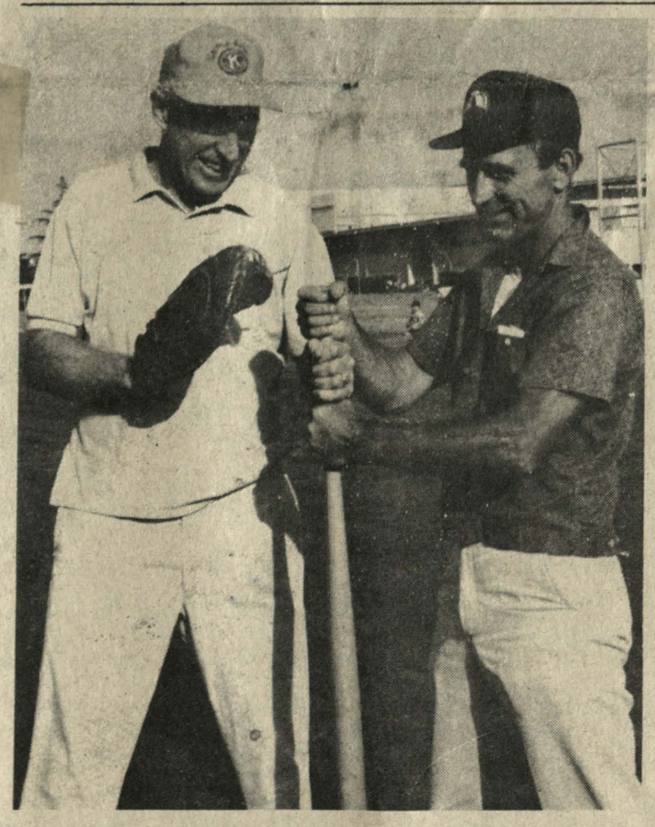
The instructors, who have been working with the children during the summer program, have been assisted by Don Bryant, recreation director and Miss Mary Cathey assistant recreation director.

The children and their instructors have been practicing every day, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Campbell Elementary school.

As part of the recreation program the group enjoyed a recent trip to the Winterland Ice Follies.

The Thursday night program is scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. and will last approximately two hours.

ATTENTIVE CHORAL GROUP REHEARSES



BEFORE THE BATTLE--Karl Marshall (left), director of Eastfield, was coach-captain-manager of the Kiwanis Club team in the annual softball game with the Rotary Club Monday night. On the right is George Maxwell, fire chief, who handled the same chores for the Rotary aggregation. The Rotarians won by a 25-16 count for the first time in many years. Council approves first area plan

In sharp contrast to the lengthy public hearing held by the Planning Commission last month on the proposed plan for the same area, members of the audience Monday night at the brief City Council hearing took turns commending the Planning Commission's recommendation and suggesting approval by the City Council.

The City Council at the close of the hearing unanimously approved the commission's recommendation and officially adopted a resolution approving the proposed land use for Specific Area I (San Tomas Expressway area) as recommended.

The bulk of vacant land in the Specific Area I adjoins the San Tomas Expressway but the area in general extends from the western city limits to Winchester Blvd. to north of Campbell Ave. and from the San Tomas Expressway to Winchester Blvd. south of Campbell Ave. The southern portion extends past Budd Ave.

At the Planning Commission hearing on the same area last month the recommendation of the planning consultant met with vociferous opposition by many residents of the area who were in attendance.

They particularly disliked the proposed land use for the Amato property fronting on W. Campbell and one of the last large parcels of undeveloped land within the city limits.

The planning consultant had suggested more of this property to be used for high density residential purposes than apparently was the desire of the residents.

The planning consultant had also suggested that some of the commercial zoning on W. Hamilton be reduced to high and medium density.

After listening to the arguments presented by the residents at the public hearing last month, the Planning Commission revised the consultant's recommendation so to better meet the people's thinking and had forwarded this modified version to the City Council.

The commission's modified version placed more low density zoning on the Amato property and also made the suggested changes on W. Hamilton.

Through their attorney, members of the Amato family

Planning Commission faces lengthy agenda next Monday

Planning Commission members next Monday night (Aug. 5) are faced with a varied and lengthy agenda which includes such items as plans submitted for a service station, a request for a height variance from the present 75-feet to 250 feet and a minor subdivision submitted by a church.

Although the planners have been frowning on service stations in general for some time, the gas station item next Monday is sort of a repeat performance. Plans have finally been submitted for the Union Oil service station at Central and Hamilton. The original station on the corner was torn down some time ago but construction on a new station had been delayed because of property ownership problems.

Fred Sahadi, who has submitted the dramatic proposal to locate the civic center in a 17-story building on property at Bascom and Campbell avenues, is requesting the height variance from the present 75-feet to 250 feet for structures on the property.

Plans have also been submitted to the commission by Robert Keesling for a storage area for boats, trailers and campers at 1481 S. Bascom Ave., north of Hamilton and across from the Ainsley ranch property which is in San Jose.

Ira Kirkorian is also asking for approval of plans for a 1666 sq-ft. commercial building located at 1410 W. Campbell Ave. adjacent to the Straw Hat.

Before the commission also is the application of First Christian Church for approval of a minor subdivision of property on Pollard and More avenues. The property is now zoned R-2-S and three residential lots are proposed.

Another minor subdivision application for three lots has been submitted by Sisler Construction Co. on property on the north side of Salmar Ave. and the Meribah Co. has applied for planned development approval for property on the northwest corner of Hamilton Ave. and Millich Dr.

"The Music Man" hits town for four-day run

The Music Man, by Meredith Willson, the second production by the Campbell Union High School District's Summer Humanities Workshop, will be presented this Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Monday (Aug. 1-2-3-5) in the Campbell High School auditorium.

The production is complete down to the trombone chorus on stage, as well as a 60 piece orchestra in the pit. The cast numbers over 60 singers, actors and dancers.

Playing the leading role of Prof. Harold Hill is Ron Hogan while the role of Marian, the librarian, is double cast for the production. Pam Anderson and Diane Russell share the spotlight in this major role. Other major roles are played by Mark Ammerman as Mayor Shinn; Kay Pruvich as Mrs. Shinn; Holly Hurst as Mrs. Paroo; Charles Naegele as Marcellus; Dennis Schmedes as Charlie Cowell; Nina Neely as Zaneeta and George Akina playing Tommy Kjilas.

The Music Man is one of the classics of the modern theater, and can be enjoyed by every age. The flash and flurry of "76 Trombones" and "You Got Trouble" intrigues old and young alike while those who can remember 1912 will find the play beautiful and nostalgic.

Director for the play is John R. Hall; choreographer, Janie Jones; costumer, Mrs. Rachael Ellis and musical director, Dr. Raynold Allvin. Curtain time, 8 p.m. at the Campbell High School Auditorium. Tickets $1.50 for adults and $1.25 for children.

The other Summer Humanities Workshop play, "The Fantasticks", will be playing Tuesday, August 6 at 8 p.m. in the local auditorium.

About recreation

Many residents of this community are unaware of the park and recreational facilities and activities that are available in this general area.

From time to time, city officials have been criticized by citizens for not doing more about the recreational situation. Sometimes the critics are junior citizens but at other times they are senior citizens.

Just recently, for example, in a letter to the City Council, a teen-ager criticized the city for not providing the young people with facilities for dances and other recreational activities.

We are well aware that the recreational program in this area may be limited.

However, many of the people who have been quick to criticize the lack of facilities, apparently are totally ignorant of some of the activities that are available at present.

For example, the youthful critic of the City Council who deplored the absence of places in which the young people could gather and hold dances, apparently did not realize that the school districts conduct summer recreational programs that include dancing and other recreational activities.

Paradoxically, at the recent meeting when the letter from the teenager had been read to the city councilmen in which the young person emphasized the lack of dances in the area, one councilman pointed out that his teenaged son at that very moment was in attendance at a dance at the school.

Another councilman noted that such dances were held regularly.

Our point in bringing up this matter is simply to submit that there are recreational activities and parks in the area that apparently are unknown to many.

In a letter to the editor, Court Watson, a member of the Campbell Parks and Recreation Commission, does a good job in clarifying the situation.

Watson's letter actually is in answer to a letter-to-the-editor that was published recently in this paper criticizing the local recreational program.

Here is Commissioner Watson's letter:

RECREATION IN CAMPBELL

Dear Mr. Vierhus:

In a recent issue, you printed a letter from Mrs. H. R. Warner expressing concern over the lack of parks in Campbell and questions about recreational programs and facilities.

I would like to answer Mrs. Warner's questions by explaining what is presently available, what projects are in process, and some of the plans that are in or near the proposal stage.

Certainly, the proposed park program was slowed down last fall when the park bond failed to pass. However, it wasn't stopped cold. The present status is as follows:

Campbell Park: Virtually completed--only minor improvements scheduled for Fiscal Year 1968-69.

Rotary Tot Lot: Complete (built by Rotary, not Kiwanis, maintained by City of Campbell)

Camden Park: County project on Dell Avenue - dedication scheduled June 8, 1968 postponed due to Robert F. Kennedy's death. It is to be re-scheduled for the near future.

Los Gatos Creek: County project - no firm schedule - ways of expediting are being explored.

Percolation Ponds: Several programs are under way or being studied for using the various percolation ponds for fishing, model boating, casting ponds, etc.

Rincon Park: Possible temporary uses for Rincon Park have been studied and evaluated. If all goes as planned, we hope to have a baseball diamond, a quarter-mile running track, horseshoe pits, and a children's play area in operation this year - with a budget of $0.00. The baseball diamond has already been started by the very enthusiastic Campbell-Moreland Pony League.

The hopes of a community center in the near future went down the drain with the park bond. We haven't given up, though.

A Campbell Recreation Directory is being compiled and should be available by early fall. This directory will catalog all known available recreation facilities and needs together. For example, we are trying to locate suitable quarters for the proposed Campbell Light Opera Association.

I hope that this letter has answered some of Mrs. Warner's questions and explained some of the problems and some of the reasons why we have so far to go.

Sincerely,
Courtland L. Watson

them, for example, in deciding whether the joints in town that have topless acts should have their licenses revoked.

But in the topless situation, there is the question of extra police, obscenity, lewdness and morals involved.

Shucks, you can't use that reasoning to block service stations. (That is if you want to limit them, in the first place.)

But it does seem logical to use the traffic problem that the station would create on a busy street as a basis in the consideration of service stations.

The three councilmen who voted for the station, however, were not convinced that a traffic problem would be created.

They arrived at that conclusion apparently because Bill Wren, public works director, and traffic engineer, would not unequivocally state that a traffic problem would result from the station being located at that particular spot on Winchester.

We think the three city dads sorta leaned 'way backward on that one.

Without a crystal ball specializing in traffic conditions, it seems to us that it would have been just as logical to take the opposite viewpoint and maintain that a traffic problem would result.

Quien sabe?

JUST IN CASE THOSE of you who tuned in late might get the wrong impression from our meanderings in this column, let the record show that Campbell, in our opinion, is fortunate in having an outstanding and sincere group of city councilmen and planners who consistently and conscientiously strive to the best job they know how.

That we will disagree with 'em from time to time is only natural.

So what else is new?

CITY COUNCILMEN WILL never be able to satisfy all the people.

As a matter of fact, there are times when the councilmen have a tough time satisfying all the members of one single family.

That was brought out recently at the rezoning public hearing for the property on Hacienda Ave. long-owned by the Turturici family.

The zone change was from commercial (C-1-S) to multiple (R-3-S). The developer indicated that a garden apartment complex was planned for the parcel.

Two lots in the rear, however, remain under the Turturici family ownership.

Two members of the family were present and asked that the C-1-S zone be retained on the two lots.

They did not object to the zone change on the rest of the property.

Jerry Scott, acting planning secretary, explained that he did not know that any of the family objected to having the two lots rezoned.

He had dealt, he explained, with John Martini, a relative of the Turturicis, whom he thought was the owner of both lots. He said that Martini had not objected to the rezoning.

It was explained at the hearing, however, that Martini only owned one lot and had a quarter interest in the other.

Although the councilmen generally make a valiant effort, if at all possible, to placate property owners in zoning matters, they felt it would be poor zoning to allow a land-locked commercial lot on a multiple-residential zoned parcel, even if the family wanted it that way.

So they went along with the zone change as had been recommended previously by the Planning Commission. There had been no objections at the planning commission's hearing on the question.

After the action by the council, some pitiful punster pointed out that the Martinis, apparently owned only one lot outright and had only a partial share of the other.

Therefore, it was just a simple question, this punster added, of not having too many martinis.

That's a new twist.

OUCH!

Proposed budget allows for tax cut

The Board of Supervisors has slashed 8½ cents or more from the proposed 1968-69 budget, giving Santa Clara County property taxpayers a break.

The final action taken Thursday followed six days of hearings on a county administration budget proposal of more than $154 million. The precise property tax rate requirement will not be known for some days following detailed computations.

Despite the tax decrease to an expected new rate of some $2.05 per $100 of assessed valuation, county supervisors provided for some additional services and projects.

These include a parks development program which will expend some $485,000 during the present fiscal year; acquisition of land for a South County Airport in the San Martin area; significant salary increases for county employees and new Santa Clara Valley Medical Center services including a special unit for the treatment of burns and a toxicology laboratory.

Also, the County Library budget financing will require something less than the current 21-cent tax rate.

The tax rate cut also was accomplished despite the county's assumption of San Jose public health services which added a tax rate equivalent of more than six cents to the budget demands.

It means that Santa Clara County, despite its population ranking as fifth largest in California, now ranks 45th in the state regarding tax rate levy to support county government, a most enviable position.

Financing for parks development includes major work at the county's Ed R. Levin park in the foothills east of Milpitas and along the Coyote River Park in the area of Hellyer Avenue, as well as expansions at the Palo Alto Yacht Harbor and Alviso Marina and to Vasona Park.

The proposed budget called for addition of 649 employees to the present county work force of some 6,200.

officially objected to the modified plan which reduced the high density use for their property.

But that was about the only objection offered at the meeting to the recommendation of the Planning Commission. A number of residents, as well as a couple of councilmen, however, thought there had been an oversight in the recommendation in not specifying that the width of the so-called "buffer strip" between high and low density use would be 260-feet wide.

The land use map, however, that was an integral part of the whole ball of wax showed the strip even if the width was not specified in the written portion.

Mayor Bill Smeed ruled that Councilman Dean Chamberlin's motion to include the words 260-feet was out of order. Smeed pointed out that such a change would mean that the whole matter would have to go back to the Planning Commission and he did not think that was necessary as the map should suffice.

Residents who took turns commending the Planning Commission's version of the proposed land use for Specific Area I included: Charles Fleming, 919 Hedegard; Harold Adams, 954 Hedegard; James Malone, 1021 Hedegard; Mrs. Raymond Barton, 680 Hedegard; Robert Sneed, 241 Victor; Bruce Sweetland, 1019 Bismarck; Clifton DeMartini, 861 Springfield.

Commenting on the proposal also were Fred Chez, a local developer and Charles Rose, former councilman.

Rose wondered how final was the fire station location across from the high school, as shown on the map and why the site located farther west had been eliminated.

It was explained that the hearing was not concerned with public facilities. The specific locations of these facilities would be approved at the hearing on public facilities, according to City Manager Bob Stephens.

Police check out animal hospital entry

Police were called last week to investigate a forceable entry at the Campbell Animal Hospital, 186 E. Sunnyoaks Ave., owned by Dr. Charles Smith. The entry was possibly made by someone looking for narcotics according to the evidence.

According to Mrs. Ruth Smith, who lives in a small apartment in back of the hospital, she was awakened by the animals barking and making noises and called the police. Police investigation found that entry had been made by way of a small window on the west side of the surgery room, the light bulbs unscrewed and a syringe taken from the autoclave and left on the table as if in preparation for a "fix".

Nothing else was disturbed and police were able to obtain a clean fingerprint from the syringe.

Two juvenile boys are being questioned by Campbell Police after they apparently cut the guy wires holding the two TV antennas on the Campbell Grammar School roof Friday afternoon, causing the TV antennas to fall.

Police were called in Monday night by a disturbance at The Sandbox, Railway Avenue "topless" beer bar. Jimmy Lee Davidson, 26, 89 N. Harrison, Campbell, was booked at the Santa Clara County jail after allegedly threatening Edward Duane Keller with a 12 gauge single shot gun. The altercation occurred following a fight over keys belonging to one of the girls and when Davidson was apparently getting the worst of the argument, he reached into his truck and brought out the gun.

After Keller ran for the bar, Davidson took off in his 1956 Ford, and the police were called. He was picked up approximately one minute after an APB was put out by Los Gatos police and subsequent investigation was sufficient to book him.

Seven bikes were reported stolen from residences and public places and two were found during the same period of time.

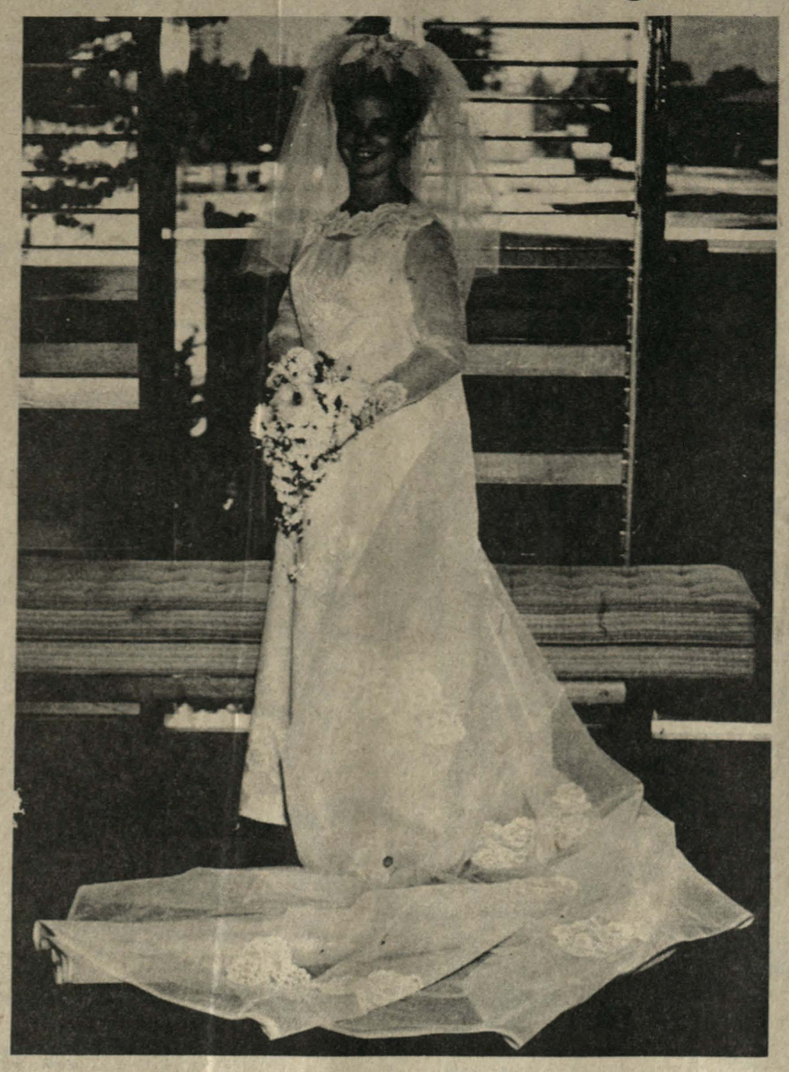
Mr. and Mrs. Bradford united in marriage



MRS. ROBERT W. BRADFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bradford are now making their home in Wichita Falls, Texas following their July 6 wedding at the First Methodist Church of Campbell. The Rev. William H. Gould performed the ceremony.

Diane Wisler Rohde, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanis H. Rohde of 372 Harrison Avenue, chose peach and yellow for her color scheme. The attractive brunette bride made a lovely picture in her A-line organza over taffeta gown as she went down the aisle to meet her bridegroom. The full train was appliqued with lace florets and beaded with seed pearls, and her elbow length silk illusion veil was held with an organza rose and pearl trim. She carried a cascade of baby white carnations and baby gladiolus.

Honor attendant Miss Georgene Cook wore a floor length peach chiffon gown over peau de soie with a colonial bouquet of peach carnations and white roses accenting her gown. Bridesmaids Clea Ferrero and Carol Viehweger both wore identical gowns and carried yellow carnations and yellow roses, while little Patricia Elsner and Linda Quirke, both nieces of the groom, served as flower girls.

Diane is a graduate of Campbell High School and attended West Valley College before her marriage.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bradford of San Jose. He was graduated from Westmont High School and is presently serving as an airman first class at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, where he is an instructor.

Don McBroom served his friend in the role of best man while Edward Elsner and William Freitas ushered.

Approximately 100 guests attended the reception held in the church hall following the ceremony. The young couple honeymooned at Lake Tahoe before leaving for their new Texas home.

Orchard City Grange initiates new members

A class of 17 candidates was initiated during the first July meeting of Orchard City Grange No. 333. The ten members welcomed into Orchard City were: Dorothy Banks; Noble and Fern Burrows; M.E. and Mary Lindstrom; Lucy Flint, Gertrude Stanford, Orville and Dorothy Teaford and Cora Vanderplas.

Also joining the ranks of Grangers were Cathy and Mary Janko; Rebecca Clark and Frank Mirril of Cupertino Grange; Michael and Jennie Parker of Almaden Grange.

The first and second degrees were in short form and the Third and Fourth Degree Team chairmaned by Zee Martin put on the formal work for the happy new initiates, in full form. Visitors were introduced and refreshments were served in a beautifully decorated dining room.

A second meeting in July was well attended and an interesting program was arranged by Lecturer Ted Bohn, who has just returned from visiting relatives in Indiana and Pittsburgh, Pa. The program consisted of fair talent from the Santa Clara County fair association. Comedians, dancers and folk singers delighted the members during the lecturers hour. Lee Copp was the M.C. and is in charge of entertainment at the fairgrounds.

Pomona Master and Mrs. Ed Terrell were in attendance along with Levi Richman of Gilroy Grange. Mr. and Mrs. Sheffer, youth counsellors, and the Orchard City youth group were refreshment chairmen for the evening.

Next regular meeting will be on August 13 and will be an International Pot-Luck dinner at 6:30. Members are urged to attend and bring an unusual dish. Bring own service.

There will be no second meeting in August due to the Fair. Grange day at the Fair will be Sunday, August 19, also a pot-luck, and all Grangers are welcomed and urged to attend and enjoy the Grange booths and the Fair.

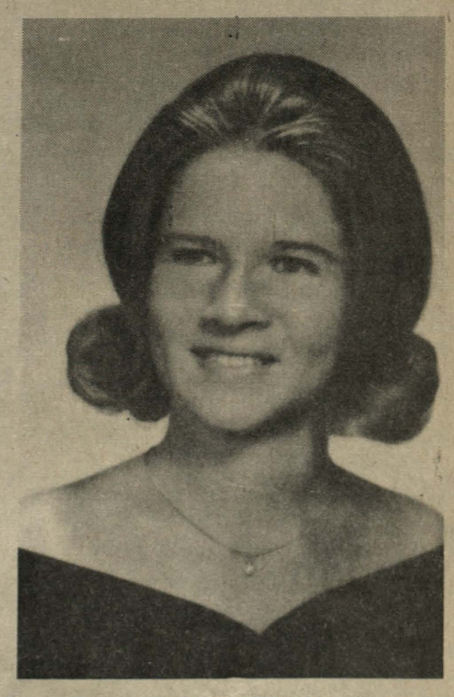
English guest visits at Benson home

A new potential resident in the Campbell area is Eric Gilbert who is presently visiting at the Briarwood Avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Benson. Gilbert, a retired army captain from Her Majesty's Forces, London, England, is contemplating settling in the area, and is presently enjoying meeting the people, and the scenery while he looks around.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson met Eric while they were attending the Kiwanis convention in Toronto, and persuaded him to come to Campbell. Gilbert was attending the convention as a guest while in the Ontario province, and had been thinking about coming to California. The Benson's persuaded him "why wait – come now".

Gilbert, who was in the army for 19 years, having entered at the age of 15, hopes to be able to do some teaching while in the area, having had some experience in that field while in the service. Gilbert spent one term of service in Singapore, Hongkong and the Malay Peninsula.

Engagement revealed



LESLIE ANDERSON

Over 70 guests were gathered at the 1988 Curtner Avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Anderson recently. During the evening a champagne toast by the host revealed the romantic news that their daughter, Leslie, and Terry May were betrothed.

A yellow and white color scheme was carried out on the refreshment table with a large sheet cake decorated appropriately as part of the refreshments. A family dinner party followed for the immediate relatives.

The bride-elect was graduated from Camden High School and also West Valley College and is now attending San Jose State as a Social Science major.

Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris F. May of San Jose. He was also graduated from Camden High School and is presently attending West Valley College where he is majoring in drafting. He has recently completed a tour of duty with the U. S. Army and served in Viet Nam.

The wedding date has been set for June, 1969.

Here, they confer with Mrs. John Michelmore of Saratoga, former chairman of the group, about this week's meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday (July 31) at the Joseph McKinnon School, 2390 Moorpark, San Jose.

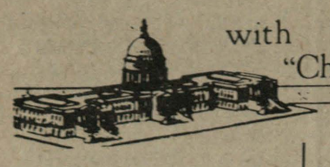
ON CAPITOL HILL



with "Charlie" Gubser

The curtailment of postal service threatened by administration authorities because of the $6 billion spending cut imposed by Congress is not necessary. In fact, if the Post Office Department were efficiently operated, we could have improved service at less cost.

In recent years postage rates have trended steadily upward and service has gone from bad to worse. Deliveries which, at one time, took one day now stretch to three and four days and often parcel post packages arrive looking as though they had encountered a Sherman tank.

Today's bad service is not the fault of the hardworking postal employee. Actually he accomplishes miracles considering the outmoded organizational structure of the Department and the overcrowded unhealthy, firetraps where many are required to work.

In 1954 as a Member of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee I was the guest of the Dutch Postmaster General and the President of the Werkspoor Company which makes advanced mail handling machinery. I returned to the United States with strong recommendations for modernizing mail handling through the use of up-to-date mechanical devices. Unfortunately the program has lagged for a variety of reasons.

Last year a major post office received five new automatic machines. Nine months after delivery only one had been installed and it was working poorly. The multi-position letter sorting machine which requires ten fewer employees to sort the same amount of mail has only been installed in thirty-nine of the 44,000 postal facilities of the nation.

In Palo Alto I have been trying for years to secure a new postal facility to replace one which is so bad that farm labor laws would prevent farm workers from being employed there. Bureaucracy grinds slowly. There is a new facility "in the mill", but we still continue to use the Palo Alto Annex.

Outmoded regulations make good postal management impossible. An 1879 law still dictates that publications can be delivered within one county at a cost of one or two cents. So, today some of the five pound Sunday papers go through the mails at one cent each. Employees are hired under a combined Civil Service and political system and it takes thirteen weeks to hire them, a period of time which discourages potentially efficient employees. 85% of postal workers are in the five lowest pay grades and 80% of them finish their careers at the same level in which they started.

European countries are more efficient, but their post offices are subsidized by revenues from government owned telephone and telegraph companies. This is not possible here so if service is to be improved it must result from a different approach.

It is time to seriously search for a new system which could operate without the restraint of nearly 200 years of patchwork laws and regulations. The Post Office Department is now a multi-billion dollar business. It should be free of restraints which antedate the horse and buggy era.

HONOR MEDAL

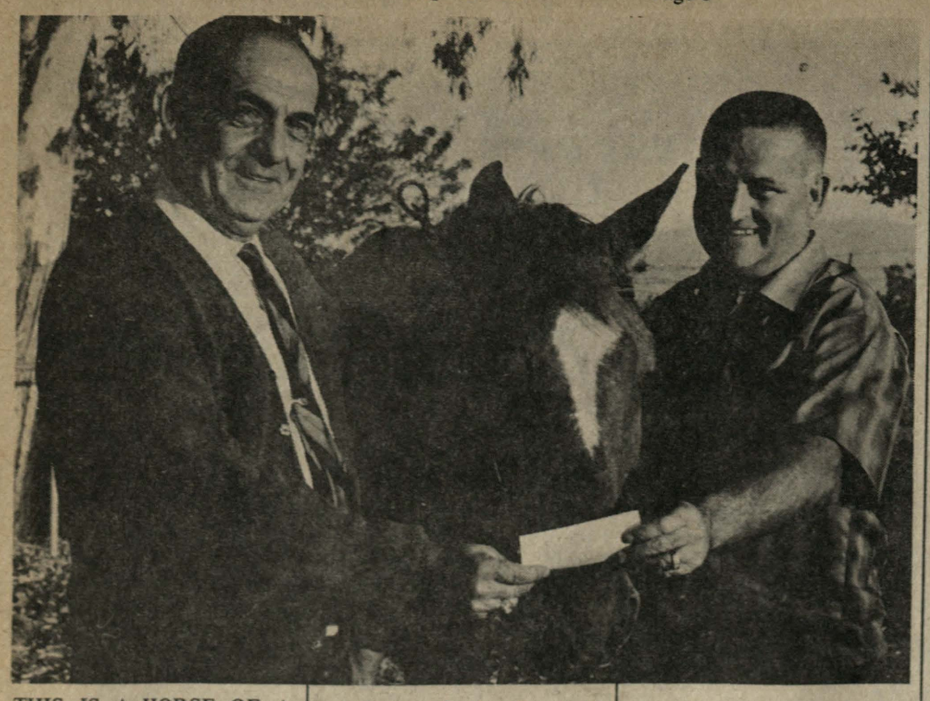
Army Private Robert N. Stephens, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton F. Stephens, 1915 Somersworth Dr., San Jose, was awarded the American Spirit Honor Medal July 12 at the end of his basic combat training at Ft. Lewis, Washington.

The award is made to the trainee who best demonstrates honor, loyalty and high example to his fellow soldiers during basic training.

His wife, Kristine, lives at 88 N. Central Ave., Campbell.

HIGH SHOOTER

Clyde L. Lujan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lujan, 1260 Theresa Ave., led all recruit riflemen in qualification firing recently, and was named honor Marine of his platoon No. 3007, Marine Recruitment Depot, San Diego. He was one of seven in his platoon to receive his PFC stripes on graduation day. Lujan, a 1967 Campbell High School graduate, enlisted May 27 in the Marine Corps.



THIS IS A HORSE OF A DIFFERENT COLOR–says the horse in the middle as he eyes the check being presented by Roy Leishman, right, vice-president of the Campbell Moreland Pony League to Herb Aronson, left, Regional Director of Pony League Baseball as evidence of good faith. This year the Campbell-Moreland Pony League is hosting the regional Tournament at the Castro Jr. High School diamond.

Pony League Tournament open here

Pony League Tournament baseball will come to Campbell next week when the Campbell-Moreland Pony League will host a four team regional tournament featuring championship teams from Northern California, Utah and southern Idaho. The tournament games will start Tuesday evening, August 6 at the Castro Junior high school diamond. The Regional level of competition is only one step removed from the Pony League World Series.

Campbell-Moreland is the defending Regional champions, a title they won last year at Springville, Utah, after defeating Carbon, Utah 8-1 for the regional crown.

The week-long tournament meet begins Monday night, August 5, with a banquet for all tournament players and team officials, hosted by the Campbell-Moreland at the Campbell Elementary school on Cherry Lane. This year the dinner is open to parents and friends of the league, for the modest charge of $2, with the boys, coaches and managers as guests. This is open to the public on a first come, first serve basis.

A short film and guest speaker will highlight the evening's entertainment.

On Tuesday another local team, Section II will be playing against the Section I, Northern California team. Wednesday evening Campbell-Moreland goes into action against a Utah, Idaho team. On Thursday a playoff between Tuesday and Wednesday losers will be held, and at this point one team will be dropped from tournament play.

The competition from this point on will be very keen until only one team is left with less than two losses, and the winning team will emerge sometime Sunday, August 11.

The Regional Champions will then be ready to move on to Division play at National City, California with the Pony League World Series scheduled for Washington, Pa. the week of August 19.

The public is invited to attend any or all of the tournament games, with the net proceeds to be used in developing the new Pony League diamond at Rincon Park, as a joint City-Pony League affair.

"PONY PRINCESS"–is the title bestowed upon Vicki Farmer who will reign as the princess at the Campbell-Moreland Pony League's Regional baseball tournament scheduled for next week at the Castro Jr. High School ball diamond. Vickie is the 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Farmer, 600 Sunnyoaks Ave. Her brother Ken plays on the team.

New law helps survivors in Social Security

"The new Social Security law makes it easier for the dependents and survivors of a woman worker to receive benefits", according to John J. Cassidy, district manager of the Social Security Administration.

"The change provides that a child can now be deemed dependent upon his mother under the same conditions as he previously was deemed dependent on his father," he said.

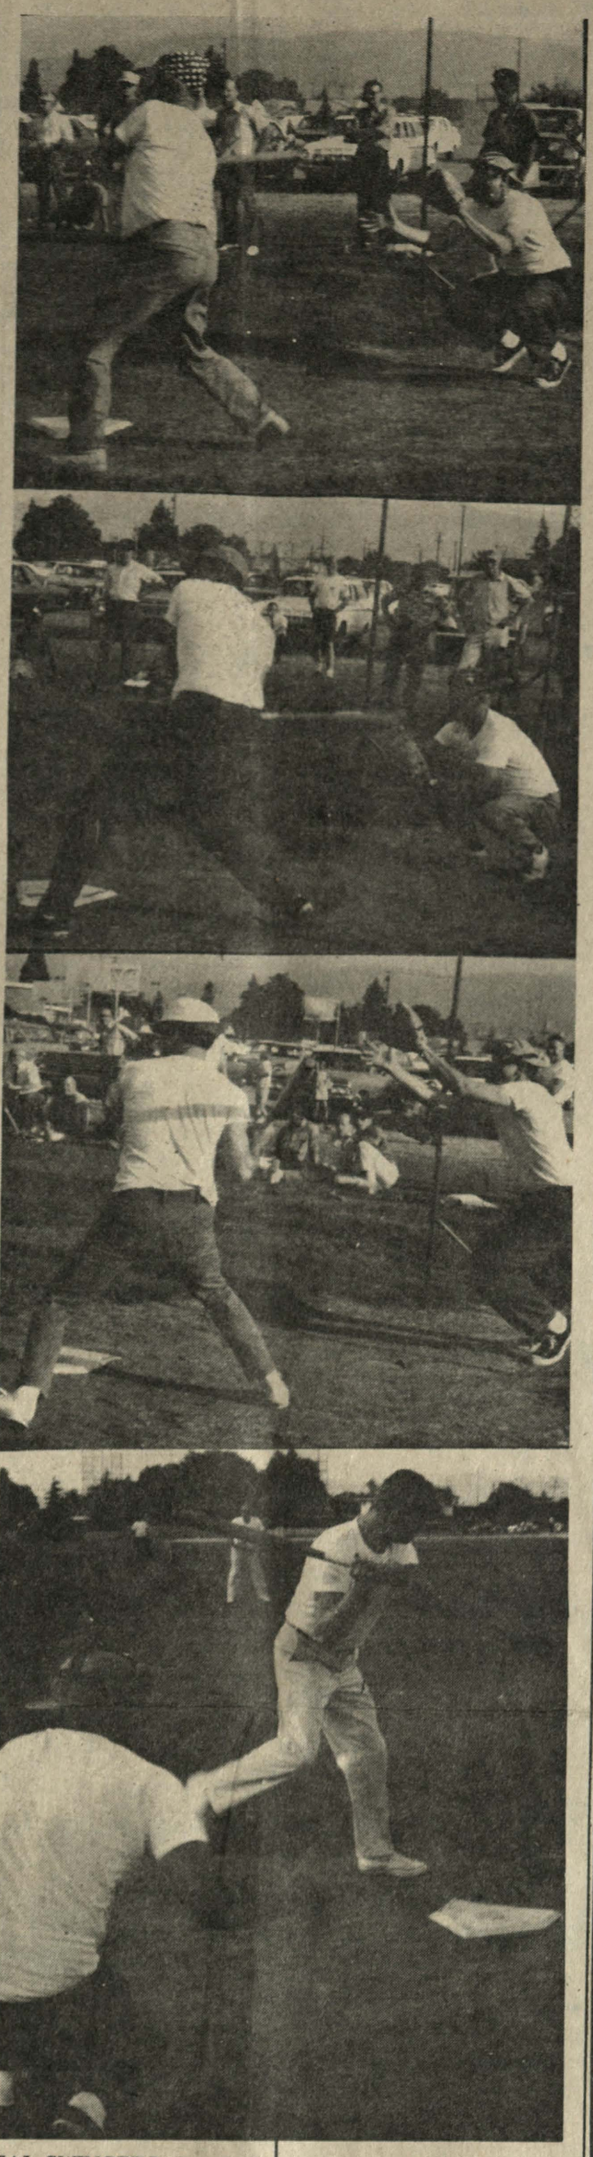
Cassidy added that this is an important change for many children under age 22. It means that some of them may now be eligible for child's social security benefits based on the earnings of a retired, disabled, or deceased mother.

To qualify for child's social security benefits, the child must be dependent on an eligible or deceased parent. If the child was not actually dependent on his mother, he was deemed to be dependent if the mother had credit under social security for 1½ years out of the three-year period prior to retirement, disability, or death.

The change in the law was effective with benefits for February 1968.

If you believe that you, a friend, neighbor, or member of your family may be eligible under this change in the law, get in touch with the San Jose Social Security Office at 500 South First Street. Office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. In addition, the office remains open Thursday evenings until 7:30 p.m.

Rotary wins classic(?)



REAL SWINGERS--Campbell Rotarians and Kiwanians tangled on Monday night in their traditional "big game" (?). The battle took place on the Campbell High field. The game was played with a bat, a ball plus members of both clubs disguised as ballplayers for the evening.

The Rotary Club overcame a four-run deficit to come out on top in the game that probably set the sport back a good 10 years.

Karl Marshall, headed the Kiwanian aggregation while George Maxwell masterminded the Rotarian team.

The game featured tight pitching and stellar fielding.

The final score was 25-16.

Pictured are some of the stalwarts who took part in the annual classic.

From the top down:

Top photo: Rotarian Myron Alexander is the first batter of the contest with Dick Hardy behind the plate. You can pick out Maxwell, Don Kennedy and Bob Culp, if you try hard.

In the next photo, Kiwanian Hardy is the first to bat on his side, Alexander is the catcher.

Rotarian Harvey Swenson in the next shot takes a cut at a high one while Hardy reaches for it.

In the lower photo Rotarian George Miskulin, principal of Del Mar High and a former coach, demonstrates a unique batting stance. That's still Hardy behind the plate.

Beauties vie for fair queen

A bevy of 10 beauties will compete for the title of Miss Santa Clara County Fair in the annual pageant to be held at Exposition Hall, Fairgrounds, at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 3. The winner will reign as queen of the Fair, Aug. 16-25.

The 10 candidates who will vie for the Queen title are: Terry Buck, Miss Almaden; Regina Martinez, Miss Gilroy; Carmen Villegas, Miss Northside; Cinda Ratzlaff, Miss Morgan Hill; Terry Lopes, Miss Cambrian Park; Kathy Shull, Miss Saratoga; Connie McCory, Miss Milpitas; Susan Kohn, Miss San Jose Jaycees; Diana Grebmeier, Miss Palo Alto Elks and Rosemary Hannah, Miss Los Gatos.

Billy Jones Wildcat train makes last run to station

At exactly 8:08 p.m. P.S.T., last Sunday, (July 28) the last coach-only run of the Billy Jones Wildcat Railroad pulled into the tiny railroad station at Daves Ave. and Winchester Road.

Ending an era of almost 25 years of operation of the tiny steam train for the children of Santa Clara County, the final run took place with coaches jammed with happy children and nostalgic young parents.

They would not leave the terminal!

Standing in small groups quietly, they watched as engineers Jack Dair, Bill Ulleseit and Lyle "Smokey" McGuire, all of San Jose, backed the three coaches into the terminal siding.

One long, final cry of the tiny steam whistle dispersed the last load of passengers as dusk closed in and the little prairie-type steamer backed into the round house for a much deserved rest and planned overhaul.

All Sunday long the coach-only, headed by locomotive No. 2, a narrow-gauge 2-6-2 type, transported over 4500 youngsters and not-so-young passengers over the one-half mile long track. Happy faces and shrieks of delight were the order of the day as passengers contributed some $2,100 to the fund to purchase and move the tiny railroad to Vasona and Oak Meadow Park.

Currently the fund stands at approximately $10,150, with another month left in the current fund drive. The goal set is $35,000.

Extended day students get permits now

Students planning to enroll in the extended day program (evening classes) during the fall semester at West Valley College, should obtain their registration permits as soon as possible.

Donald R. Ziegler, dean of admissions, has suggested that students take advantage of the fact that his office is open for this purpose Tuesday and Thursday evenings during the current summer session, which ends August 2, and his office will reopen for the same purpose on August 21, 22, 26 and 27 in the evenings.

Already, Ziegler said, more than 2,000 students have taken permits, indicating the high degree of interest in the evening program.

Actual registration is set for the evenings of August 29, September 3, 4, and 5, and students will be registered in the order in which they obtained their permits.

Those who were not enrolled at West Valley College last Spring must complete an application form and information sheet in order to obtain permits.

Also, Ziegler said, all students must present their official Social Security Cards in order to obtain permits, and the Social Security number then becomes the student's identification number at the college.

Further, students who reside in other California junior college districts must bring with them official releases from that district, Ziegler said.

Second "Y" yogi class opens

The San Jose Central Branch YMCA is offering a 12-week course in Hatha yoga.

The session, to start Aug. 6, is the second to be offered by the "Y" after the first was quickly filled. But enrollment is limited and interested persons are urged to sign up early because of the great interest in the practice.

The class will be given on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. in the "Y", 1717 The Alameda.

Fee is $26 for non-members and $21 for members with anyone from 18 to 80 invited to enroll. Emphasis of the course is on the physical aspects of yoga, including deep breathing and stretching exercises.

Instructor is Phil Peters of Santa Clara.

Students are entitled to use "Y" shower and locker facilities and each receives a copy of a popular handbook on yoga. Further information is available at 298-1717.

Brandon House, 294 S. Second Street. San Jose, offers a shelter to Campbell women and small children who are the victims of cruelty, disaster and desertion.

Sponsored by a community relations team from the firm, one hour classes for approximately 12 students are being given three times weekly at the company's San Jose office, 111 N. Market St., under the direction of Wayne Shannon, a company engineer.

College board adopts budget of $7 million

The Board of Trustees of West Valley College, approved publication of its proposed $7,069,269 budget, and set a public hearing on it for Thursday, August 1.

The Board also approved publication of a $3,220,816 special reserve fund budget.

The budget increase from $5,732,983 last year is accounted for in the opening of the Saratoga campus, scheduled for this fall, and the hiring of additional faculty to account for the 16 per cent increase in average daily attendance recorded during the 1967-68 school year.

In a somewhat related matter, the Board authorized an agreement with Edward L. Bernays of Cambridge, Massachusetts, "to make a study of the present and future management, conditions, needs and financial support of the college." Included is a plan for a sampling of a cross-section of the community with a questionnaire calculated to determine community desires in relation to the college.

The Board was informed that two courses will be offered through the Community Services program in the area of Afro-American History, and granted permission for Miss Phyllis Williams, social science instructor, to attend a summer workshop on Negro culture, to be held August 5-17 at Boston University.

NATURE HIKES—Ranger Jim Bouvard, center, with bull horn, took time out from his many duties to take seven different Girl Scout units on nature hikes through Vasona Park during Camp No. 44 of the Girl Scout summer day camp program.

TALENT SHOW—Part of the Summer Day Camp activities for the Girl Scouts include a talent show. In the above skit a number of girls work around an "operating table" as a medical team and after operating on the patient, removed such unusual items as rubber bands, comic books, pop bottles and other assorted objects.

Mothers and daughters work together at camp

By Nan Warren

Rumor has it – and rumor is true in this case – 32 mothers in the Campbell and surrounding areas, left their dishes in the sink, beds unmade and stacks of ironing behind to go to the park! It was all for a mighty good cause though – summer Girl Scout Day Camp at Vasona. This "lack of household activities" has been repeated since the first day of the Day Camp programs June 17, and for some – the late Spring cleaning will be delayed even longer.

These 32 fore-mentioned women seemed to enjoy Day Camp No. 44 as much as the girls. Their "fun in the sun" included learning new skills in outdoor cooking, crafts, nature hikes with Jim Bouvard of the Vasona Park Ranger Staff and of course, songs, games and new friends. The weeks activities were climaxed with a watermelon treasure hunt and unit talent show.

Another camp begins Aug. 5 involving nearly 300 girls of Brownie and Junior age levels– and more mothers who will leave their household duties behind. We have nothing but the highest praise for these women. Day Camps can't possibly function without them. And what "pay" do they receive? The best pay of all – warm smiles and an occasional slightly dirty hand gripping theirs to say – "Thanks for coming!"

BACK PACK TRIP

Mary Ann Confar and Nancy McIntosh, both Campbell girls, will be among the 36 Santa Clara County Girl Scouts, all experienced campers, who will leave July 31 for the High Sierras.

The group will enjoy a two week backpack adventure, directed by Mrs. Audrey Oswald. The trip will start at the Huntington Lake area.
